This portion of the Prescott's best people enjoying a pleasant tete-a-tete, or watching the dancers, charmed by the soul-stirring music of the orchestra, which was, beyond doubt, the finest ever rendered in this city. Prof. Thomas is to be congratulated in being able to secure for the party two of the finest musicians in the Ninth Infantry band. The guests were lavish in their preises, and in every manner showed their high appreciation of the music rendered. The prominent feature of the ball was the lack of formality; everybody present seemed to enter with zest and spirit in the enjoyment of the occasion. Mr. George Heyl, of Whipple, acting as floor director, is deserving of much praise far the masterly manner in which he performed his really arduous duties.

At 11:30 intermission was announced during which the guests enjoyed the first supper in the new hotel. The supper itself, together with the courteous and prompt attention of the attaches of the house reflected much credit upon its deservedly popular proprietor. After supper, dancing was resumed and kept up until after midnight, when the guests began to disperse, voting the ball to be one of the most enjoyable ever given in Prescott.

The people of Prescott are to be con gratulated upon the opening of a really first-class botel in their midst; it fills a long felt necessity. The Bellevue offers every comfort and convenience to be found in the best hetels of the east. The parlors and rooms are elegantly furnished, with a view of attracting that class of people who desire a pleasant the hurry and bustle so often attendant upon hotel life. The especial feature of the Bellevne is its culinary department, which is under the direct management of Mrs. Baumann, which is sufficie t evidence that only the best of cooking will be placed before the fortunate patrons of this hotel. Mail Robbery.

the north and south mails were held up total of money going out of the valley by one man, about 12 o'clock October | monthly of $106,321.40 A little enter-30th, between St. Johns and Navajo station. The mail south was taken first, and to prevent the driver from warning the north-going mail the highwayman detained him two hours until the mail going north came, which was staple articles of food, and bring people Clocks, Silverware, etc., and the handrobbed. No passengers were on the south mail. The north mail carried one to buy. Los Angeles, like Phenix, is passenger, who was robbed of $80.

The St. Johns Herald has the following particulars of the robbery

On Monday night last the buckboard from Navajo to St. Johns was held up, the driver robbed of some $80 express to sell. This valley at the touch of the money, and the United States mail plow will teem with hundreds of thoubags rifled. The story told by the dri- sands of dollars worth of just those food ver is about as follows, as near as we products as we are now buying, and it could learn: He says that when about is a burning disgrace that we are in the ranted. Shop in Dr. Lincoln's Drug eight miles this side of Navajo, and just situation we are to-day.-Herald. as he had driven in amongst some ecrubby cedars, a man jumped out from the side of the road, with pistol in hand, and told him to throw up, which be did. The highwayman then searched him to see if he had any arms, and finding none proceeded to cut open the mail bags, and examine the registered matter. After he had satisfied himself in this line, he searched the driver, whe had on his person $80 belonging to Wells, Fargo & Co.'s express, which the bold, bad highwayman confiscated.

The driver says he then put the mail matter back into the sacks and onto the buckboard, got on himself, and made bim drive towards St. Johns for about five miles, when he ordered him to stop. They then dismounted, took a seat on the side of the road, and waited for the buckboard from this place to Navajo to come along. After waiting about four hours their patience was rewarded by the appearance of the buckboard from this place, which the highwayman ransacked in the same manper as he had the one from Navajo, Cure for Tarantula Bite.

The Gilroy Valley Record, of October 18th, gives what is claimed to be an effective cure for the bite of this poisonous insect. It says, it is worth remembering:

"On the morning of Sunday, the 9th, Neill O'Brian's little boy, while putting on an undershirt, at his home near Sargents, was bitten four times by a large tarantula, which was concealed in one of the sleeves of the garment, before he could divest himself of it and kill the wrathsome thing. His father rushed to him on hearing his outcry, took in the situation at a glance and never was turkey killed quicker than one of O'Brian's. The bird was ripped open in the stom- 1879 ach, and laid, entrails and all, on the child's arm and plenteous doses of whisky administered at the time and during the drive to town for medical assistance. The doctor pronounced the treatment as the very best, and by its promptness had probably saved the boy's life. Mr. O'Brisn informed us that when the turkey was taken from the arm the flesh of the bird had become quite black and hard from the absorbed poison. A chicken was afterwards served in the same way and applied, but the fiesh of it remained white and soft, proving conclusively that the first application had sufficed to extract the venom injected by the tarantula's

The boy, with the exception of a slight eruption, is now thoroughly well and attending school.

It is a good thing to remember that for the extraction of poison from a bite or sting of venomous reptiles the prompt application of raw and still warm flesh is almost an antidote, coupled with free use internally of alcoholic stimulants."

Another Killing at Tonto Basin.

An associate press telegram from Albuquerque says: "News has been rereceived here of the killing of William Bonner, a cowboy who belonged to the Graham faction, in Tonto Basin, Ariz. When his body was discovered it was lying about fifteen feet from a road which was traveled frequently by cowboys, and was covered with sage brush.
